Fauci Secretly Met With CIA to 'Influence' COVID Origins Investigation, House Republican Alleges

Dr. Anthony Fauci was secretly enrolled into CIA headquarters to "influence" the investigation into COVID—in origins, according to Rep. Brad Wenstrup, chairman of the House Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Pandemic, which is leading the investigation and requested medical information from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Dr. Anthony Fauci visited CIA headquarters to "influence" the COVID-19 origins investigation, according to allegations disclosed Tuesday by Rep. Brad Wenstrup (R-Ohio).

Wenstrup, in a letter to Inspector General Christi Grimm at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), said that the information suggesting Fauci was "escorted" into CIA headquarters "without a record of entry."

Wenstrup is chairman of the Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Pandemic. A subcommittee spokesperson told the Daily Mail the committee "has received information that sheds light on potential serious matters regarding Dr. Fauci's movements to and from the CIA."

Neither Wenstrup nor any subcommittee member or spokesperson identified specific dates Fauci allegedly visited the agency.

Tuesday's press release from the Committee on Government Oversight and Accountability, which is overseeing the subcommittee's investigation, called attention to allegations by ex-CIA whistleblowers that they reported "significant financial investments" by Fauci and other NIAID/CDC-I virus may have leaked from the Wuhan Institute of Virology (WIV) in China.

In light of evidence uncovered earlier from his associates publishing Fauci's involvement in the "Proximal Origin" paper claiming to disprove the lab leak theory, the subcommittee said it found Fauci's participation in the CIA "questionable," alleging it "lends credence to heightened concerns about the promotion of a false COVID-19 origins narrative by multiple federal government agencies."

Wenstrup asked Grimm to send the subcommittee by no later than Oct. 15 any documents and communications related to Fauci's alleged involvement in the CIA, 2020, and Dec. 31, 2022, into any facilities owned, operated or occupied by the CIA.

Wenstrup also requested the pay and bonus history of all past and current members of HHS' "Outbreaks Group" and all past and current staff and contractors at HHS, National Institutes of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), and the U.S. Marshals Service who have been vaccinated.

"Our goal is to ensure the scientific investigative process regarding the origins of COVID-19 was free, transparent and not influenced by politics," Wenstrup stated.

Wenstrup did not reveal the source of the information on Fauci's CIA visit, but the letter mentioned HHS' Special Agent Brent Rowland, requesting Grimm make him available for a "voluntary transcribed interview."

CIA whistleblower and intelligence community reports on COVID origins

A joint letter from the subcommittee and the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence Chairman Mike Turner (R-Ohio), sent Sept. 12 to CIA Director William Burns, outlined the testimony of a "multi-decade, senior-level, current agency official" alleging to the joint senate analysts investigating the COVID-19 origins were given a "significant monetary incentive to change their position."

According to the unidentified whistleblower — a decorated and long-serving CIA officer with expertise in Asia, according to the Substack Public — he or she is analysts, all with significant scientific expertise, were paid off in order to portray the COVID-19 more likely emerged from the Wuhan lab.

The seventh and most senior member of the team was alone in believing the virus had a zoonotic origin, the letter stated.

The CIA whistleblower said, "Fauci's expert opinions were a significant consideration and were part of our analysis," adding, "In turn, opinion substantially altered the conclusions that were subsequently drawn," Public reported today.

"He came multiple times and he was treated like a rockstar by the Weapons and Counter-Proliferation Mission Center. And, he pushed the Kristian Anderson ['Proximal Origin'] paper," the whistleblower added.

In a separate letter, the subcommittee also requested Andrew Makridis, former COO at the CIA who is known to have taken part in the investigations, to participate in an interview.

Democrats from both committees said ABC News they have given no prior notice of a whistleblower's existence, let alone testimony. The subcommittee information regarding this claim by the Republicans was to be access to the allegations at this time."

CIA Director of Public Affairs Tammy Kuppenaan Thorp told the New York Post, "At the CIA we are committed to the highest standards of analytic rigor, integrity and objectivity. We do not any analysis to reach specific conclusions. We take these allegations extremely seriously and are looking into them."

In June, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) declassified a 10-page report on its investigation into the links between the Wuhan lab and COVID-19, in the report, the ODNI admitted the lab performed gleeful engineering of coronaviruses, that possibly working at the lab got sick in December 2019 "consistent with but not diagnostic of COVID-19," and that they found a lack of "adequate biosafety precautions."

However, the ODNI report stated the CIA remained "unable to determine the origin of the virus that caused the COVID-19 pandemic," but that "almost all IC [intelligence community] agencies assess that SARS-CoV-2 was not genetically engineered" and that "most IC agencies assess it is more likely that exposure to the biological weapon."

In February the U.S. Department of Energy released a "low confidence" assessment that the virus most likely originated from the leak at the Wuhan lab.

Several days later, FBI Director Christopher Ray, during an interview with Fox News, said the bureau believed the pandemic was likely the result of a lab accident in Wuhan.

'Proximal Origin' lab-leak-denying paper linked to Fauci

Fauci's alleged visit to the CIA is the latest data point in a growing body of evidence gathered by the subcommittee investigating the pandemic showing the former NIAID director played a central role in directing and influencing the official COVID-19 narrative, chiefly by suppressing the lab leak theory.

Tuesday's announcement included a link to the subcommittee's July report, "The Proximal Origin of a Cover-Up," which accused the virus was not zoonotic.

In the "Proximal Origin" paper, prompted by Fauci in early 2021 and written by Kristian Anderson, Ph.D., professor of Immunology and Microbiology at Scripps Research. Anderson and his co-authors argued the virus was not zoonotic — made or purposefully manipulated, and that the lab leak scenario was implausible.

The subcommittee report stated the "Proximal Origin" paper has been accused 5.84 million times and was "one of the single most influential and scientific scientific papers in history" that was used to "downplay the lab leak hypothesis and call those who believe it may be true conspiracy theorists."

The report further alleged Fauci was aware of the monetary relationship between NIAID, Ecohealth Alliance, and WIV, and the lab leak theory.

Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Children's Health Defense's chairman on leave, explains Fauci's longtime involvement in gain-of-function research in his new book, "The Wuhan Cover-Up" And the Terrifying Bioweapons Arms Race," due for release Nov. 14.

I am currently reading the book "The Real Anthony Fauci" I think it is long overdue to prosecute and put Fauci for the rest of his days. The harms he has caused over his career are unbelievable.

Yet they have the nerve to say brave yourselves because another "pandemic" is coming soon! Really? Because calling what happened 3yrs ago a pandemic is like calling me a president. If it sounds like a duck, our so-called pandemic was either a bioweapon escape or a bioweapon release. Either way, if they make boarded Fauci and find out.

There's a deep trouble we eternally reveal for may have no good role in COVID pandemic?
Newly released emails reveal that in January 2020, Dr. Anthony Fauci possessed crucial information regarding the origins of COVID-19. However, during that critical period, Fauci and his colleagues at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and CDC opted not to disclose the information to the American people. Rather, he worked to keep it hidden.

These CIA whistleblowers! are fake, as much as the rest of the "origin" story of the lab.
I am not interested about the origin! I know, it was made in Israel ISDF virtual lab of: I am with Denis Rancourt, Jonathan Cousy and Roger Hodkinson on it.

"Weinstrup also requested the pay andBonus history of all past and current members of HHS' "COVID Discovery Team" and individuals at HHS and the National Institutes of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) and the U.S. Marshals Service who may have been involved."
Weinstrup should also ascertain how much Homeland Security paid Andrew Rothman, Steven Hatfill and Robert Kadlec. I'm sure that the federal government will pay for them to work again. These new things cannot be elected. We're going to follow the investigation and follow the money.

We must continue to hold their "dirty feet" to the fire. If Fauci and other scoundrels involved get away with grave a conscience they'll be emboldened to do it again.
